What are foreign consular offices & chambers of commerce?

Consular offices are established by foreign governments 1) to officially develop economic, commercial, scientific and cultural relations between the country they represent and the area in which they serve, and 2) to safeguard the interests of the sending country and its citizens traveling or residing in their consular district. Traditionally these duties include issuing and renewing passports and other official documents, helping travelers in distress, signing death certificates, legalizing or delivering official documents, and assisting travelers who have trouble with local law enforcement or immigration authorities.

Career consulate officials are members of their country's foreign service while honorary officials are local residents appointed by foreign governments to perform consular duties.

Foreign chambers of commerce are actively involved in metro Atlanta's international business community. These organizations work to assist their members develop business contacts, and foster, promote and develop commercial relations and exchanges between Georgia and their countries.
